Daughters of the American Colonists

Compiled 1957 - 1959

The Anderson Chapter, Daughters of the American Colonists dedicates this book to: - MRS. ROWANT W. SHOEMAKER, SR.
Regent

The time, genealogical knowledge and ability of EMMA SHOEMAKER have been largely responsible for this compilation. For two years she has devoted almost her entire time and effort to this work, cataloging a large portion of the cemeteries herself, providing materials and supervising the entire task. Without her guidance and unselfish devotion, this book would not have been possible.

FOREWORD

For years the genealogical minded people of Madison County, Indiana, have felt the need for a compilation of the birth and death records of settlers prior to 1903, when the Board of Health began such recording. As time goes on the value of compilations of this kind will be more apparent. The migration of the descendants of the early settlers will make it increasingly difficult for lines of descent to be traced.

The Anderson Chapter of Daughters of the American Colonists worked for two years, searching every cemetery in the county, chalking all the tombstones in order that inscriptions could be copied accurately.

If the searcher fails to find the ancestor he feels should be in this compilation, he should not accept it for proof that such a person never lived in Madison County. Names were often found to be inscribed several different ways for the same family. In such cases they were copied as inscribed on the stone. Furthermore, many of the smaller cemeteries were turned into pasture fields and grounds for raising swine, numerous stones were broken. In some cases it was impossible to piece them together well enough to be chalked and read. Sometimes only part of a name would be clear or part of the date. In other instances, stones were sunken deep into the soil, thus hiding the inscription.

Many of the cemeteries were found to be in deplorable condition. In a few more years they will be completely destroyed. This makes it necessary to preserve all the records possible at this time.

In most instances inscriptions were not copied from tombstones with dates of death after 1900. However, in a few cases, due to various reasons, it was thought wise to copy some inscriptions with dates later than 1900.

The Anderson Cahpter of The D. A. C. will endeavor to answer any and all queries in regard to genealogical sources in Madison County.
